It's said that heroes appear in times of crisis.
The time: end of the 2nd century; the place: China.
To answer the call of the times, they have come.

Its cries rending the skies, the Phoenix soars.
Shaking the ground beneath its feet, the Tiger roars.
Piercing the clouds' veil, the Dragon rises to the heavens.

Wherever they go, there rains fire and destruction.
And so the age rages on:
There is none who can stop it.

Editing Process

1 Selecting a file

Choose an empty character file from 1 to 4. If you choose a file which already contains previously saved character data, the new data will overwrite the old data.

2 Enter name

Character names are limited to eight (8) spaces. Press the START button to confirm.

Entering letters

Select the letters to be entered by using the directional buttons to point to the desired letter on the list.

3 Choose a gender

Select a male or female model.

The model's body parts and motion will differ depending on the gender chosen.

4 Create model

Choose the model's color and uniform:
[COLOR] [HEAD] [CHEST] [ARMS & LEGS] [HIP]

Color applies to the entire model, whereas body parts are chosen individually.

5 Choose motion

Choose how the character will move. The character's weapon will change according to the motion chosen.

When the number of selectable characters increases, new motions become available as well.

6 Confirmation

Make changes

Select NO. Select what you wish to change. When you are finished, select FINISHED and the confirmation request will appear again.

EDIT Character abilities?

Abilities of characters created in Character Edit are determined automatically, but this doesn't mean all the abilities are chosen entirely at random. The type of character created will, to some extent, determine the basis of the abilities. For example, if the gender is changed the chosen motions will differ and enable different weapons to be used. Though overall the differences are not great, each created character will have both strengths and weaknesses. The bottom line is how those abilities are used on the battlefield. Good luck in battle!

Bodyguard Edit

By choosing a name and model, you can create bodyguard units. Up to 4 units may be created. There are four pre-made bodyguard units available by default.

Editing Process

1 Select a file

◆ Entering letters

5 Confirmation

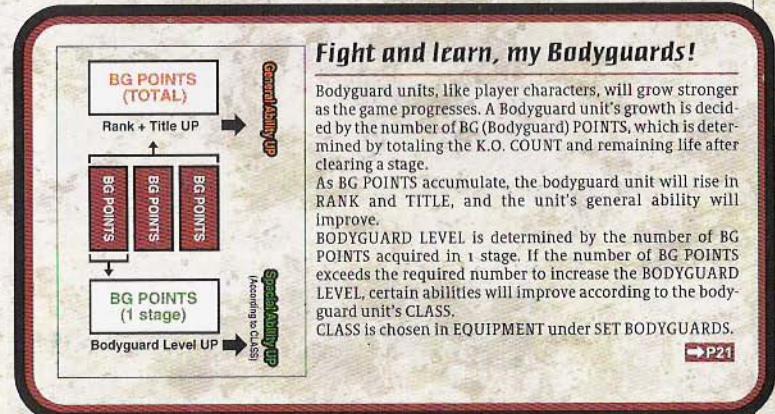

A request for confirmation will appear on the screen.

◆ Save bodyguard unit

Select YES. The unit data will be saved.

◆ Make Changes

Select NO. Select what you wish to change. When you are finished, select FINISHED and the confirmation request will appear again.

Fight and learn, my Bodyguards!

Bodyguard units, like player characters, will grow stronger as the game progresses. A Bodyguard unit's growth is decided by the number of BG (Bodyguard) POINTS, which is determined by totaling the K.O. COUNT and remaining life after clearing a stage.

As BG POINTS accumulate, the bodyguard unit will rise in RANK and TITLE, and the unit's general ability will improve.

BODYGUARD LEVEL is determined by the number of BG POINTS acquired in 1 stage. If the number of BG POINTS exceeds the required number to increase the BODYGUARD LEVEL, certain abilities will improve according to the bodyguard unit's CLASS.

CLASS is chosen in EQUIPMENT under SET BODYGUARDS.

Every strategy has its advantages and disadvantages

Each force advances according to its commander's STRATEGY. Each of these strategies may be advantageous or disadvantageous with other strategies. TACTICAL works well against OFFENSIVE, OFFENSIVE works well against DEFENSIVE, and DEFENSIVE works well against TACTICAL. Furthermore, BALANCED works well against any strategy, whereas NORMAL fares poorly against all of them. Morale and troop numbers are the largest factors for victory in battle, but if these are equal on both sides, then the strategies can affect the tide of battle.

*Weapon Attacks must be above 5.

MUSOU ATTACKS

Musou Attack can be used when the Musou Gauge is full. The Musou Gauge is charged when the following occurs:

- Character does damage to an enemy.
- An enemy inflicts damage on the character.
- Character's Life Meter becomes red.
- The □ button is held down.

*When the Musou Gauge is full, the character's hands glow.

Musou Attack

□ button

Use the character's special technique to attack. As long as the □ button is pressed down, the attack will continue until the Musou Gauge is depleted.

*Enemy attacks will not affect the character during his/her Musou Attack. Use this attack to stop an enemy combination attack or when surrounded.

True Musou Attack

□ button (while Life Bar turns red)

A more powerful Musou Attack.

As long as the □ button is pressed down, the attack will continue until the Musou Gauge is depleted.

*A True Musou Attack is more powerful than a Musou Attack. When your character's Life Meter is low, the Musou Gauge charges quickly, so don't hesitate to use it!

Double Musou Attack

□ button (when playing in 2Player Mode)

The most powerful Musou Attack. When Player 1 and Player 2 are within a fixed distance of each other and both use a Musou Attack at the same time, it turns into a Double Musou Attack. During 1 Player mode, a Double Musou Attack can be performed after certain conditions are met.

*When two characters are within a certain distance from each other, their bodies will radiate a certain light. That is the go sign for a True Musou Attack. All that is left is the timing!

DEFENSEGuard*L1 button

Guard against frontal attacks.

When the L1 button is pressed, the viewpoint shifts behind character. Hold down the L1 button to continue guarding.

*Also guards against bow attacks. Can be used to change character's viewpoint while moving or in a crowded battlefield.

Parry*△ button (while guarding)

Knock away an enemy attack.

While using L1 button to block an enemy attack directly in front of you, time it right and press the △ button to have your character push back the enemy.

*A successful parry will inflict damage to the enemy, but failure will make the character vulnerable to attack.

Somersault*L1 button (while in air)

Regain control after being thrown into the air by an enemy attack.

*If the somersault is successful, your character will land upright and be able to attack immediately. However, there are some attacks after which a somersault is impossible.

When you can't move...

When your character is immobilized after taking a hit, repeatedly press the directional button or any attack button (not the START button or SELECT button). Your character may recover faster.

Weapon deadlocks

If your character and an enemy soldier are equal in strength and your weapons deadlock, press the □ button repeatedly. If you win the deadlock the enemy will be in a vulnerable position. If you lose, your Musou Gauge will be completely depleted.

OTHER
TECHNIQUES*Announce Yourself*R3 button (push down the right analog stick)

Push down on the right analog stick to threaten and startle the enemy. Works even if the character is on horseback, but doesn't work if on an elephant.

*Announcing yourself takes enemies off their guard, so be sure to follow it up with an immediate attack. However, announcing yourself leaves your character vulnerable to attack, so make sure to leave plenty of room between yourself and the enemy before doing so.

Accept Duels*× button

Accept the challenge of an enemy officer to a duel.

Duels may become available after certain stage conditions are met, or when certain conditions are met between the player character and the enemy officer. To accept the challenge, press the × button, and the duel will begin.

*Whether a duel will occur between two characters depends on the "relationship" between the two combatants. The more two characters dislike each other, the more likely it becomes that a duel will occur. The results of a duel affect relationships between characters, so it is possible to develop a heated rivalry.

Duel Rules

When you accept a duel, the game will switch to the "Duel Screen," and a one-on-one contest between you and the enemy officer will begin. Both combatants begin with equal life, and the character who reduces the other's life to zero within the time limit wins the duel. If both combatants are left standing after time expires, then the duel ends in a draw.

- Time Limit is 45 seconds.
- A victory raises the morale of the character's entire army, and extra points are awarded when the stage is cleared.
- If the player loses the duel, the game is over.
- Normal stage combat resumes right after the duel ends.
